ABOUT THE WORKSHOP

This program is designed for professional staff involved in caring for sick neonates, children, and women in clinical practice settings. Participants will have the knowledge of current evidence based practices that will assist them in caring for complex conditions including hemorrhage of the infant and mother, respiratory conditions, nutrition, substance abuse, and antibiotic resistance.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This program is designed for the health professionals who comprise the interdisciplinary team of nurses, nurse practitioners, physician assistants, child life specialists, social workers, case managers, respiratory care practitioners, and therapists that provide a comprehensive continuum of care to the neonatal, pediatric, antepartum or obstetrical patient.

OBJECTIVES

The Transformation of Healthcare: How to Wake Sleeping Giants • Identify current market disruptions driving innovation in healthcare • Identify gaps in knowledge among nurses and healthcare providers as they relate to innovation • Describe innovation benefits to nurses, health care providers, patients and families

Case Studies: Substance Abuse and the Effects on Children • Discuss the mental and physical abuse children suffer as a result of an addiction in the family • Examine the social implications for potential abuse in the future • Outline resources that are available to support the child and family impacted by substance abuse

Current Trends in Pediatric Neurology • Examine current trends in pediatric neurology

Long Term and Short Term Effects of Substance Abuse on Neonates • Describe the long term and short term effects of substance abuse on neonates.

RSV and Non-RSV Bronchiolitis • Review current AAP guidelines on the management of RSV Bronchiolitis • Review the different modalities of respiratory support for bronchiolitis • Identify the population that is most at risk • Identify non-respiratory treatments for bronchiolitis

Effects of Hemorrhage on Infant and Mother • Discuss the effects of hemorrhage during labor and birth on the mother and infant. • Use case studies to recognize and respond to an intrapartum and post-partum hemorrhage. • Anticipate the interventions and treatments for the effects on the infant and mother.

Independent Lung Ventilation • Discuss indications, placement, and troubleshooting of single lung ventilation

Intentional and Unintentional Overdose • Describe the assessment and management of children with intentional and unintentional overdoses

Complex Feeding Disorders in Infancy

• Discuss the identification and management of the complex infant “feeder”.

Antibiotic Stewardship: Neonatal Sepsis • Describe the practice guidelines designed to improve and measure the appropriate use of antibiotics in the neonatal population.

A New Definition of Culture: Reflecting on Holistic Relationships in Health Care

- Define culture using cultural transformation theory and its application to health care
- Explore exemplars of culture and outcomes in the current news and media
- Review culture and cultural impact on safety, quality, and experience
- Define 'Big E - Everyone's Experience Matters'
- Discuss intentional strategies for cultural disruption
